

GUEST LECTURER SERIES 2008-2009

September 30 – Alumnus Mike Wyrick

- Bachelor of Science in Engineering Management, Illinois Institute of Technology
- Founder and Co-Director of Chicago Biofuels
- Volunteer for the Chicago Conservation Corps in the Chicago Center for Green Technology

October 28 – Bill Ball

- Little Rock businessman dealing with solar energy and solar heaters

November 14 – Heidi Riddle

- Indonesian environmental issues and the elephant conservation project in Sumatra.

January 27 – Jenny Ahlen

- Serves as the Renewable Energy Programs Coordinator for the Arkansas Energy Office.
- Will speak on what's going on in Arkansas with regards to renewable energy (solar, wind, biofuels, landfill gas, etc.

March 18 – Kash Schriefer

- Graduate of University of Louisiana at Lafayette
- Past Enforcement Agent of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and current Special Agent with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
- Will discuss:
 - Ecological issues that relate to the area at the end of the Mississippi River delta
 - Destruction he has seen on the coast and highlighting his work during the Katrina rescues in New Orleans.
 - Cultural issues that were impacted by the destruction of the coast.